Propose Use of Area Labor in Shawnee Forest

HELPING OUR FORESTS:—I was interested in the status of a double-barrelled plan to help southern Illinois and learned that a request for a two and a half million dollar federal appropriation has been sent to Washington.

In brief, the proposal is to use surplus labor in the Shawnee National Forest to develop the Forest and to furnish jobs for jobless. It's a fine idea. Getting the money, obviously, is the big problem. The Forest Service would welcome the plan and so would the people who got the jobs.

This idea was started in March of 1955 by the Illinois Public Aid commission when it requested a meeting by the county welfare committees to discuss projects that would possibly meet the problems of unemployment. The Jackson county committee made the recommendation to use unemployed on labor jobs in the Shawnee Forest, with supervision by the National Forest staff. It pointed out, however, that such a project would require special funds in addition to the normal budgetary appropriations which operated the Forest. In September, the committees met at Giant City park and approved this recommendation.

An even dozen projects were outlined in the prospectus sent to Washington asking for approval and funds. They all were designed to absorb as much unemployment as possible and are listed as follows:

1. Tree planting, using an estimated 16 man years of work. To be planted would be open and brushy areas and poorly stocked lands to pine and hardwoods interspersed with wildlife openings and game food plantings.
2. Timber stand improvement. An estimated 200-man years could be used in improving plantations. About 550 man years could be used in improving natural stands, culling non-merchantable species to provide growing space for good quality young growth.
3. Erosion control, where 25 man years could be used in building check dams, diversion channels, and shaping and seeding gullies and other eroded areas.
4. Building recreational areas, using 26 man years constructing tables, fireplaces and other recreational improvements; building trails, cleaning brush out of camp and picnic areas; and cleaning up and maintaining public use areas.
5. Making roadside improvements. Stabilizing, cutting and filling slopes, seeding bare areas, opening scenic vistas and building roadside parking areas. About 12 man years could be used for this.
6. Improving wildlife habitat. Five man years could be used in

Soviet Leader Follows Theme Of Khrushchev

MOSCOW (U-P)—Premier Nikolai Bulganin today proclaimed a policy of atomic age communism designed to socialize the world without war.

He endorsed Soviet Communist Party First Secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev's dictum that war between capitalism and communism is not inevitable.

He also underscored the new concept previously laid down by the current meeting of Communist party leaders here that various countries can go through the transition to communism by peaceful means, sometimes through parliamentary action.

He coupled his call for communism-through-peace with a declaration that the Soviet Union is ahead of all countries in the world in developing atomic energy for peaceful uses.

Says Soviet Must Keep Lead
"This lead must be kept in the future," he said, and underlined it as the bedrock of the new communism by saying:

"The Communists must fully place the greatest discovery of the 20th Century—atomic energy—at the service of building communism."

In a four-hour speech to the 20th Congress of the Soviet Communist Party, Bulganin echoed the theme laid down by Khrushchev last week in his keynote address to the gathering of Soviet and world Communist leaders.

Like Khrushchev, he declared that while V. I. Lenin once said the seeds of war are present so long as communism and capitalism compete, Lenin also said times changed.

He made it clear he joined Khrushchev in considering that times have changed the old theme that war is inevitable between capitalism and communism.

Various countries can go through the transition to communism by different means, he said. He emphasized peaceful means.

Bulganin also stamped his approval on the new era of collective leadership which has followed the one-man rule of the late Josef Stalin. That is the way the Soviet

Miss Avah Phillips Wins First Place In Annual Fire Prevention Essay Contest

Miss Avah Phillips, HTHS senior, won first place in the annual fire prevention essay contest for HTHS students sponsored by the Robertson-Ghent Insurance Co.

Her essay won her a $50 government bond. She could choose between a tuition and fees scholarship at SIU and the bond.

Receiving honorable mention were Dawan Martin, Jack Klein, Treva Kay Humphrey, Diane Mathis and Nancy Fulkerson.

Miss Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brose Phillips, submitted the following winner:

FIRE AND MAN

The origin of man's use of fire is unknown. It is said that no tribe has ever been discovered that was totally ignorant of it. The most probable sources of this knowledge are the various phenomena of nature: the heat of the

Stop Pressing For Ike Decision, Reporters Told

President Will Make Announcement at His Choosing, Hagerty Says

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (U-P)—The White House today evidenced increasing sensitivity and even irritation toward efforts to pry out the details of President Eisenhower's second term announcement.

On the basis of what the President has said in the past, he will make known his intentions late this month or possibly early in March.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty is the daily target of many questions seeking to establish what the President will announce when he will say it and where.

Today he warned reporters to stop "pressing" and asserted "the President will make his announcement at his time and nobody else's."

Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey, Mr. Eisenhower's south Georgia host, was sure to be pressed for the big answer Wednesday when he flies to New York for a speaking engagement.

Date Not Set

Mr. Eisenhower will return to Washington by air Saturday morning.

Hagerty grew firm as reporters questioned him about whether to believe that Feb. 29 would be the date of the President's announcement.

"There is absolutely no reason to believe that, one way or another," Hagerty said.

Hagerty was pressed by representatives of some morning newspapers to have the President schedule his announcement news conference in the afternoon.

"If you gentlemen want the announcement at a press conference, you better leave it as it is," Hagerty told reporters. "I know of no better way not to have it at a press conference than to keep pressing."

"The President will make his announcement at his time and nobody else's."

Since last Wednesday when the President arrived here, he and Humphrey have spent long hours together riding over the cabinet member's large plantation in search of quail, and chatting together before Humphrey's broad fireplace in the evenings.

Pros and Cons

Humphrey is one of the "trusted advisers" with whom the President has discussed the pros and cons of standing for re-election. Their conversations have been against the background of Mr. Eisenhower's heart attack of last Sept. 24 and the desire of most GOP leaders that the President head the 1956 ticket.

It was doubtful that Humphrey has the answer. There has been no evidence in Thomasville to indicate that the President has made up his mind.

State Chamber of Commerce Dinner At Herrin March 5

L. R. Ardis

HERRIN—L. R. Ardis, vice president of the State Chamber of Commerce, will be host at an Illinois State Chamber of Commerce dinner here Monday evening, March 5, in the Gold Room of the Ly-Ma Hotel.

The meeting will begin at 6:30 p. m., with State Chamber members and other leading businessmen from Herrin and 34 surrounding communities expected to attend.

Communities represented will include Ava, Benton, Buckner, Carbondale, Carrier Mills, Carterville, Cave-in-Rock, Chester, Christopher, De Soto, Du Quoin, Eldorado, Elizabethtown, Elkhart, Golconda, Gorman, Grand Tower, Harrisburg, Herrin, Johnston City, Marion, Murphysboro, Norris City, Pinckneyville, Ridgway, Rosiclare, Shawneetown, Sparta, Steelville, Stonefort, Tamaroa, Valer, Vergennes, West Frankfort and Zeigler.

Violence Flares At Plane Plant

Non-Strikers Seek To March Through Republic Picket Lines

NEW YORK (U-P)—Violence flared again today at the strike-bound Republic Aviation Corp. plant here when some 400 non-strikers marched into strong picket lines in an attempt to enter the main gate.

At least three men were hospitalized with injuries suffered in today's melee. One woman suffered injuries and was treated at the scene. Six more strikers were arrested, bringing the number of arrests well above 60 since the strike began three days ago.

Police said the pickets faced non-strikers with their hands in their pockets, apparently in an attempt to disprove police charges that they had attacked patrolmen and non-union workers with their fists in earlier fighting.

The new violence occurred just after 7 a. m. today, the crucial hour when the day shift normally reports for work at the airplane manufacturing plant.

Police said several persons were knocked to the ground in the clash. In fighting Monday, nine strikers were injured and 56 others were arrested in two outbreaks.

John J. Ryan, vice president in charge of industrial relations, said all employees who returned to work would receive a 5 cent across the board increase offered earlier by the company.

The union, representing some 1,200 employees at the four plants, asked first for a 38 cents an hour package increase. It later reduced its demands to a 19-cent package boost.

Pumping Fills North Reservoir

Pumping from Middle Fork into the reservoirs north of town still was in progress today with the north reservoir full and with water pouring from this basin into the south reservoir through a gate that was opened this morning.

The north reservoir filled around 2 p. m. yesterday and Amos Doom, water and sewer department superintendent, estimated that at least three feet of water could be let into the south reservoir before pumping stops.

Lake Harrisburg, raised six inches at the spillway last week, was full and the borrow pits alongside the standby reservoirs were filled to capacity.

Wife of Unemployed Painter Gives Birth to Triplets

Farm Worker Beaten During Argument on Debt

MOUNT CARMEL, Ill. (U-P)—A Princeton, Ind., man today was accused of critically beating a farm worker during an argument over a $2 debt.

Witnesses said Richard Golden, 27, a Princeton bricklayer and ex-convict, kicked and beat Lawrence Whitehouse, 42, of near here, at a Mount Carmel tavern Monday.

Whitehouse was placed in an oxygen tent and given blood transfusions at Wabash General Hospital.

Golden said he loaned Whitehouse $2 last Friday. He said Whitehouse returned $1, but would not pay the rest. Golden previously served prison terms on three convictions for auto theft.

Group Approves Missile Projects

Twining Warns Russia May Leave U. S. Behind in Race

WASHINGTON (U-P)—The House Armed Services Committee today approved five projects to speed development of the intercontinental ballistic missile.

The action came as Gen. Nathan F. Twining warned the Senate Armed Services Committee that Russia may leave the United States behind in the race for the deadly weapon.

Four of the projects approved by the House committee were labeled secret. But they presumably involved additional land for testing.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers (D-SC), chairman of a subcommittee which handled the four projects, said facilities for development of the intercontinental ballistic missile would be "substantially increased" by their approval. He refused to reveal any details.

The committee also voted to authorize $15,400,000 to expand the facilities of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (NACA). The funds would include construction of "an atmosphere-entry simulator" at Ames Aeronautical Laboratory, Moffett Field, Calif.

Subcommittee Chairman Carl T. Durham (D-NC) told the committee that the simulator would be used for development of the intercontinental ballistic missile. The simulator will facilitate work on problems encountered when the missile leaves and then reenters the atmosphere.

Twining told the committee that Russia is "greatly increasing" research and development efforts on both war planes and missiles. Their air research efforts exceed this country's, he said.

"This greater effort could also result in the Soviets obtaining better missiles sooner than we," Twining said.

He further warned that the Reds could make good their boasts that they soon will have an intercontinental missile.

Third Annual Chili Day Feb. 23 by Carrier Mills Lions

The Carrier Mills Lions club will hold its third annual Chili Day Thursday, Feb. 23.

Members of the Lions, with assistance from women of the Order of Eastern Star and others, will serve chili and other food items starting at 11 a. m. Thursday and continuing until 8 p. m. The kitchen and dining room of the Masonic temple at Carrier Mills are used for the Chili Day.

Morse Hill, Lions president, stated proceeds from the Chili Day would be used to further civic improvements sponsored by the club.

They hope to purchase a heavy duty moving machine to use in the upkeep of the cemetery and city park.

The Lions have maintained the cemetery for years, in cooperation with the American Legion post. The city park project is in its third year.

At present the park contains a nice shelter house with large fireplace and several picnic tables. Some playground equipment will be purchased this year, Hill stated.

Wholesalers and food distributors cooperate with the Lions in their Chili Day each year.

Tickets are 50 cents, which includes all the chili a person can eat, plus a sandwich, cake and a drink. There will be a special price per each item for children, if desired.

PTA Speaker Praises Schools and Parents for No Juvenile Problems

The Harrisburg Council of Parent-Teacher Associations met Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the McKinley school for an interesting "Founders' Day" program which was presided over by the president, Mrs. Irene Langford.

Other council officers are Mrs. J. C. Wilson, vice president; Mrs. Mary Trammel, secretary; Mrs. Clyde Knight, treasurer; and Mrs. Wendell Bramlet, director of District 30.

The invocation was given by Lt. Andrew Sands of the Salvation Army.

Mrs. Langford introduced John A. K. Fox, representative of the Charles Scribner's Sons Publishing Company of Chicago, who was guest speaker for the evening.

Mr. Fox is a former author and teacher and for 14 years was a law officer dealing with juvenile offenders and their cases in the courts. His subject was "Juvenile Delinquency in the United States."

Mr. Fox read headlines which have appeared in newspapers in the last sixty days telling of crimes committed by juvenile delinquents. Contributing factors to juvenile delinquency are, he stated, fear, broken homes, lack of family discipline, working mothers and accessibility of automobiles. Other things which definitely have an effect on teenagers are movies, television, radio, and the fact that the country has no juvenile court.

Mr. Fox stated that the answer to the juvenile delinquency problem is "love." He said that the city of Harrisburg should be proud that there are no juvenile delinquents in this community, and that the praise should go to the parents and teachers.

Mr. Fox stated that the city school system of Harrisburg ranks among the top five in the state of Illinois for having fine administrative officers and teaching personnel. He closed by quoting the golden rule "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

The Harrisburg City Schools band under the direction of W. W. Chunn presented an enjoyable concert which consisted of four numbers.

Engineers to Study Plan For Gov't Action

State Director Of Mines Approves; Represents Stratton

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (U-P)—Citizens of the heart of Little Egypt gathered here today to press their pleas for canalization of the Big Muddy River—a project first proposed more than 40 years ago.

The crowd of people from all walks of life overflowed the 850-seat high school auditorium and stood outside and listened to proceedings over loud speakers.

Col. George White, commanding officer of the St. Louis District of the Army Corps of Engineers, presided. White said the hearing had three purposes:

1. To inform all interested parties of the merits of the project.
2. To give all persons a chance to express their views.
3. To obtain data for the reporting officers and reviewing authorities.

Will Study Testimony
White said that the Corps of Engineers does not at this time have any plans for improvement of the Big Muddy River. He said that material and testimony presented today will be studied and sent to higher authorities with recommendations for either a full-scale survey of the project or a suggestion that it is not feasible.

The engineer said 11 reports—six by state agencies and five by federal agencies—have been made concerning navigation and flood control, recreation and transportation aspects of the Big Muddy project.

Ben Schull, state director of mines and minerals, said his department gives hearty approval of the project. Schull, who represented Gov. Stratton at the hearing, said the proposed Big Muddy canalization would tap seven coal producing counties that have a reserve of 21,500,324,000 tons of usable coal.

"Coal reserves in the area would justify industrial development of the area if the canal is built," Schull said.

Would Revive Industry
He also said the low-cost water transportation provided by the canal would help revive the sagging coal mining industry. Schull said the number of miners declined in the last five years from 31,000 to 13,625 in Jackson, Williamson, Randolph, Perry, Washington, Franklin and Jefferson counties. In the same period the amount of coal mined dropped from 57,282,000 tons to 45,711,565 tons.

State Rep. Bert Baker, Benton, represented Rep. Kenneth Gray of the 25th Illinois Congressional District, and gave a report prepared by Baker and Gray. The report said the project should improve the mining industry in the southern Illinois area, and also benefit farmers, flood control, and soil conservation.

Garrett W. Keaster, executive secretary of the Illinois Public Aid Commission, said his department endorses the project as a definite aid in helping reduce unemployment and public aid expenditures in the area that would be affected by the canal. He said the six counties immediately affected by the canal have 14,142 families receiving public aid of some type, amounting to $509,000 a month. He said the project could attract new industries that would benefit the 16 lower southern Illinois counties in which 38,580 families received public aid payments totaling $1,153,000 per month.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Democrats Get Stymied In Making Dixon-Yates A Big Campaign Issue; One Southern Democrat, McClelland Of Arkansas, Deserts; Kefauver Wants To Appoint Special Attorney To Handle Dixon-Yates Deal.

WASHINGTON.—Chief problem of the Democratic party, rebellion in the South, rose to plague the Dixon-Yates issue, one of the best the Democrats have, during a secret session of the Senate Ju-diary committee.
Democratic senators led by Estes Kefauver have been pushing for the appointment of a special attorney both to defend the government in the Dixon-Yates claims suit, and to prosecute those guilty of any Dixon-Yates conflict of interest. There appears to be a clear-cut case of fin-agling inside the Budget Bureau with Adolph Wenzell placed inside the government to push and later finance the Dixon-Yates deal.
So far, Attorney General
Brownell has not made the slightest move toward prosecution. So Democratic senators want to appoint a special attorney.

There is precedent for this in the appointment of Owen J. Roberts and Atlee Pomerene to prosecute the Teapot Dome scandal.

However, one lone southern vote, that of Senator McClelland of Arkansas in the secrecy of the Ju-diary committee, consistently opposed this move. With every Republican on the committee except Langer of North Dakota voting against the Democrats, Mc-Clelland's lone vote was all important. He backstopped Senator Butler of Maryland, who carried the ball for the Republicans.

STORMY SECRET SESSION

Here is what happened during a stormy session of the Judiciary committee when Senator Kefauver attempted to push through his resolution for separate counsel to prosecute Dixon-Yates.

"Let me get down to the meat
of the coconut," said Kefauver.

Gray Asks U. S. Prison for Area

Congressman Kenneth J. Gray (D-West Frankfort), representing the Twenty-Fifth District of Illinois, in a further effort to have the proposed new maximum-security Federal penitentiary located in southern Illinois, today appeared before the Appropriations committee of the House which is holding hearings on a request for $9,500,000 to construct a new maximum-security Federal penitentiary.

The new maximum-security penitentiary has been proposed to be located near the center of population which means somewhere in the midwest. Congressman Gray said he is going to use diligent effort in having the prison located somewhere in his district provided the money is appropriated. He has followed the legislative processes step-by-step in an effort to make sure southern Illinois has a chance of securing the penitentiary should Congress approve the funds.

In advancing his proposal for locating the prison in southern Illinois, Mr. Gray states:

"The principal reason, in my view, is that area satisfies the Bureau of Prisons' desire for a site close to the center of population in the United States, which is near Olney, Illinois. The center of the Congressional District which I have the honor of representing is located less than fifty air miles southwest of Olney. We have in my district thousands of acres of Government owned land in addition to many communities which have offered to purchase private acreage and donate it to the Government free of charge which would relieve the Government of any costs for a site on which to locate the proposed penitentiary.

"We have airline service, three major railroads, adequate power and water facilities, good system of highways, fine elementary and high schools, good parks, churches and many coal mines 'worked out' leaving an excess labor supply of critical proportions. We have been classified by the United States Department of Labor as being IV-B, which is a very substantial labor
surplus area.

"In addition to meeting the above important requirements, I have received resolutions and petitions signed by thousands upon thousands of residents of my district, wholeheartedly endorsing the Twenty-Fifth Congressional district in southern Illinois as a prospective site for this proposed maximum-security prison. The building of this prison in my district would be a great boom to our faltering economy."

Legion Chief Hits Estimate by VA

DES MOINES (AP)—J. Addington Wagner, American Legion national commander, charged Monday night that a Veterans Administration estimate of what a proposed veterans bill would cost is "criminal."

He said the VA made a "here to eternity" estimate when it predicted the war veterans security bill now before Congress would cost more than 77 billion dollars in the years between 1956 and 2000.

Wagner told the Iowa Legion's commander and adjutants' conference, "a cost projection such as this into the next century is as phony as a three-dollar bill, and the VA knows it."

reading from the pro-Dixon-Yates
testimony given before the Securities and Exchange Commission by the Justice Department.

"Having twice gone on record in favor of Dixon-Yates," Kefauver argued, "the Justice Department should be disqualified from defending the government in the damage suit brought to recover $3,500,000 in cancellation charges."

However, when Kefauver tried to enter the Justice Department testimony as evidence, Senator Butler objected.

"Only these specific pages?"
asked Butler. "Only two pages?"
"I offer a substitute motion," suggested McClelland, backing up Butler, "that all the records of the SEC be procured and filed for reference in this committee."

This would have made the record so voluminous it would be too expensive to publish and no one would have read it anyway.

"We should also have as part of this record before the committee all of the hearings in the antimonopoly subcommittee," added Butler, complicating matters even further.

WATKINS SHOOTS FAIR

Finally, Sen. Arthur V. Watkins
(R., Utah) came to Kefauver's defense. Pleading for fair play, he demanded that the Tennessee senator be allowed to state his case.

"I think probably we ought to hear the evidence," said the square-shooting Watkins. "I would not want to object to him bringing in evidence. I want at least to consider it."

Butler was still adamant, however, so Chairman Harley M. Kilgore (D., W. Va.) tried to change the subject by shifting to other committee business.

Butler wouldn't hear of it. "I insist that we continue with this business," he declared. "I object. Let us go on with this."

So Kefauver resumed the presentation of his arguments, this time questioning assistant Attorney General Warren E. Burger.

"The executive departments have denied us certain records and statements," said Kefauver,
"on the grounds that they are privileged. Are you going to insist and bring out in the defense of the (government) these matters?"

"I can best answer that," replied Burger, "by saying that the staff lawyers in charge of this case will do everything that they think is honorable and proper to do to win this lawsuit."

"Even to the point of embarrassing Mr. Sherman Adams and Rowland Hughes and Admiral Strauss?" quipped Kefauver, referring to the fact that both had refused to testify in earlier Dixon-Yates hearings.

"I will stand by my first statement," Burger responded.

BUTLER YELLS

Meanwhile Senators Butler and Welker of Idaho were watching the clock. Noting that it was now past noon, they demanded an end to the meeting. The full Senate, they said, had just convened.

"They just informed me that they gave us authority to go through to 12:30," announced Kilgore, urging that the meeting continue for another half hour
so Kefauver could finish his statement.

"For the purpose of the record," shouted Butler, "when we have a pending order of business and we had agreed among ourselves that we would not go after 12 o'clock, to ask permission on the floor (for an extension) without notifying the members of this committee is not right!" Butler's voice continued to rise.

"I am fully convinced," Kilgore replied, "that the senator from Maryland is trying to put on a little filibuster."

"Not at all!" bellowed Butler.
"On the business of this committee, let me have a little quiet
from you!" demanded Kilgore.
"You do not have to yell quite that loud!"

Eventually the committee room settled down and the hearing resumed. But Butler, with the support of Senator McClelland, still insisted that the record be cluttered up with hundreds of pages of extraneous testimony so as to befog the issue.

Eldorado Chapter Observes

National FFA Week

Future Farmers of America
members throughout the nation are scheduling special activities to focus public attention on the work of their organization during National FFA Week, Feb. 18-25.
Locally, members of the Eldorado FFA chapter plan to observe this week by having a window display, radio and television programs, and newspaper articles.

Membership in the FFA is made up of farm boys who are students of vocational agriculture in high school. The organization's activities are designed primarily to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship, and to stimulate the boys to better achievement in their study and work toward successful establishment in farming.

The Eldorado FFA chapter has 40 members. Officers are: President, Lindell Lovellette; vice president, Paul Plunkett; secretary, David Garrett; treasurer, J.
E. Whipple; reporter, Bob Mahoney; sentinel, Wilburn Mosby.
H. C. Bishop, vocational agriculture instructor in Eldorado high school, serves as advisor of the FFA chapter.

The national Future Farmer organization has more than 383,000 members in the 48 States, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. Membership in Illinois totals 17,500.

Future Farmers choose the week of George Washington's birthday each year for the observance of National FFA Week.
Although generally recognized as a Revolutionary War General and our first President, Washington's first love was the farm he called Mount Vernon. There, he was one of the first in the nation to practice contour planting, crop rotations, fertilization, and other soil conservation and improvement methods. It was more than a century after Washington's death before general use was made of many of the sound agricultural practices that he advocated.

FBI Hunts for Missing Airman

CHICAGO (AP)—The FBI joined the hunt for a missing young airman today and police reported they had discovered two new clues in the case.

The missing youth is 20-year-old
Roger C. Timm of Evanston, Ill.

His bullet-pocked car was found abandoned in San Antonio, Tex., Wednesday and his overnight bag turned up in the Chicago Greyhound Bus Depot Sunday night.

Authorities fear that Timm was murdered, since his car was blood-soaked. They have launched a wide search for a Texan, Prentice Frank Day, described as a mental
case.

Young Timm started out Monday to drive from Evanston to the Abilene, Tex., Air Force Base in his father's car.

With Your Automatic ELECTRIC DRYER

BE MODERN
DRY CLOTHES
ELECTRICALLY

NO STRETCH • Eliminates fatigue caused by bending and stretching to hang wet clothes on the line. And your weather worries are over. No more fighting cold, rain, blazing heat. Drying's an "inside job" at the twist of a dial.

NO LIFT • Saves you work because it ends the strain of lifting heavy baskets of wet, soggy clothes. No more worry about the clothesline breaking or props falling, to ruin your wash. Reddy and your Automatic Electric Dryer end all this.

NO CARRY • Saves you miles of steps, lugging baskets of wet clothes out to dry, then taking them back again. Best of all, an Automatic Electric Clothes Dryer dries clothes fresh smelling . . . Like Magic! And the cost is so little!

LINCOLN

The new way of saying something special about yourself is driving a new Lincoln. It speaks volumes about your position and taste. It says you've uncommon good judgment in your selection of fine cars, and reflects your preference for simple, unpretentious beauty. Most important, driving a Lincoln proves you want the finest performance ever developed for a fine car. If you haven't tried the new Lincoln yet, we urge you to do so at your earliest convenience. It's the longest, lowest, most powerful Lincoln of all time, with a new 285-horsepower V-8 engine and Turbo-Drive—the smoothest, most versatile of all automatic transmissions. You can choose from the complete selection of safety and power features. Unmistakably, here is the finest in the fine car field.

Don't miss the big television hit, "THE ED SULLIVAN SHOW," Sunday evening, 7:00 to 8:00. Station KFVS-TV, Channel 12.

myrons ANNUAL CAT SALE myrons

Here's our annual admission that we lost our heads . . . about some items! What else can we do but admit our mistakes . . . and try to shove 'em off on you at ignominious prices. Anyway, quantities are limited on almost everything, so hurry in to take advantage of our boners!

Sale Starts Wednesday Morning
at 9 a. m. and Lasts
Through Friday

Myrons Annual Cat Sale Will Be Going Strong during Harrisburg Dollar Days.
Open Thursday Until 8:00. Come See Us!

IF YOU LIVE ON THE OUTSKIRTS, no one can out-skirt you when you get real daring and snatch one of these left-over rags. They're what's left of our skirt collection after winter (a hard winter) selling. Were $5.95 to $12.95 . . . tweeds, velvets, and bengalines . . . but Cat Sale got 'em for just—

$ 3.88 AND $ 4.88

IF YOU WANT PEOPLE TO KNOW how much of a character you are, just walk out of the store in one of these 3 jackets that were

$ 5.88

OR one of these 4 wind breaker fuzzy lined jackets that were

$ 9.88

ONE ONLY WIND BREAKER with zipper to let your head in and out. Was $5.99. Good riddance

$ 1.88

HERE'S A MESS . . . a mess of cotton and silk blouses . . . long sleeve, short sleeve, and sleeveless (for people with no arms). Originally pastel colors, they are all slightly darker from Harrisburg soot. Originally $2.95 to $8.95, the prices are slightly lighter now, such as—

88c $ 1.88 $ 2.88

ALSO A mess of wool jersey blouses . . . three-quarter and short sleeves, in assorted dull colors. $5.99 and $7.99 were what we wanted to get for them, but now—

$ 1.88 AND $ 2.88

WE FELT that you'd have a feeling for these felts . . . hats, that is. Some velvets, too . . . in the wildest stylings imaginable. If you've got a face that would stop a clock, you might as well complete the job with one of these Cats. They were marked $12.95 and $14.95, but now they're only—

50c $ 1.00 $ 2.00

THEN WE ASSUME NO RESPONSIBILITY for what will happen if you buy this green wool jacket that was supposed to bring up to $22.95, $

$ 10.88

EVERYONE MAKES A MISTAKE . . . and we really pulled a dandy when we thought we could sell these V-neck wool sweaters. Have two big groups in yellow, pink, grey, beige, blue, red and white. Were $5.99 and $7.99. Now—

$ 2.88 AND $ 3.88

FIVE YEARS FROM NOW, the flowers that bloom in the spring (this spring) will look about like this bunch of last summer's roses look right now. Even Vigoro won't help this wither bunch of hothouse refugees. When they were fresh they were $1.00 and $1.95, but the dew is gone and the leaves are brown, so they're only

THESE DINGY DRESSES used to be downright party, but alas! they were unwanted far too long. 43 of the blasted rags have been here so long at $10.95 to $39.95, they're calling us by our first names! How about—

$ 3.88 $ 4.88 $ 6.88

YOU CAN AT LEAST KEEP WARM in one of these soiled leatherette jackets . . . that's about all they'd be good for. One dark (and we really mean dirty) green, one luggage. $10.95 $

$ 2.88

OR These 2 genuine leather jackets that we thought people would

$ 14.88

them for

$ 37

EVER SEE A RED POODLE? (This is a Cat Sale!) OK, ever see a red poodle cloth cat. We've one in a short coat. This is supposed to be really some coat, must have been to want $49.99 for it—Don't worry, we'll

$ 28.88

A DROPPED STITCH IN TIME gathers no moss, or something to that effect. This group of better (ha!) knit dresses is just about as garbled as that saying. Such colors as muddy aqua, burned-out burgundy, Liberate chartreuse, and shifty-eyed shrimp, and such prices as $35.00 to $49.95, failed to do the trick, so:

$ 15 AND $ 21

FROM HERE TO MATERNITY . . . You'll be expectantly stylish in one of these maternity dresses. Must not be much of a Mother market around here . . . they've been here forever for $8.95 to $14.95. You might need 'em someday at—

1-2 PRICE

IF YOU OWN TWO BIG DOGS you can fix them a clever cold weather outfit from these box three-piece suits (they are sizes 7 and 9) but dogs 4 and 5 years might do. They were $59.99 and we're wondering if any.

$ 22.88

MUSTARD WITHOUT HOT DOGS, hamburgers, pickles or other edibles; but mustard and black are the colors in a size 10 Kipness 3 piece suit. Know you'd like something to eat better, but were stuck with this

$ 28.88

Autobiography by Duchess of Windsor Ends 20-Year Silence on Private Life

NEW YORK — The Duchess of Windsor began to tell the story of her life today, disclosing that Great Britain still would be ruled by King Edward VIII "had I had my way, when at the eleventh hour full understanding finally came to me."

The autobiography ends her 20-year public silence on her private life and "gives an insight into why I did some of the things I did."

The first installment appeared today in McCall's Magazine under the title "My Side of the Story." It will be published next fall as a book, "The Heart Has Its Reasons."

"Over the years the truth has been largely clouded over by a great mass of misinformation, un-informed speculation and gossip," the Duchess said in a statement released to reporters at a cocktail party Monday in which she appeared for the first time in the role of author.

"I have decided," the statement continued, "that it is only right for me to set down for the record the complete story of my life before and after my marriage to the duke."

The duke also came to the champagne and caviar party, and after greeting the 200 guests in the receiving line joined her at a table to autograph copies of the magazine. He signed "Edward, Duke of Windsor," and she signed "Wallis Windsor."

"I'm very proud of her," the duke said, when he was asked how he felt about his wife becoming an author.

The duchess candidly appraised herself in her autobiography as a woman "content to live for the hour . . . more often than not in defiance of the maxim of never leaving before taking a prudent look."

Her marriage, she said, "has presented me with what surely must be one of the most unusual problems any woman has ever had to face—how to fill the hours for a husband who, having previously known the fullness of prestige and pomp, is excluded, by reason of his royal position, from the normal pursuits of the ordinary citizen."

Eisenhower and Truman Praise Full Employment Act

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower and former President Truman have united in bipartisan praise of the "full employment" act on its 10th anniversary.

The current GOP chief executive and his Democratic predecessor gave their views in introductory letters to a symposium of articles and comments on the law released by the National Planning Assn. at a dinner Monday night celebrating the anniversary.

Mr. Eisenhower said the 10 years have been "momentous" in the nation's economic history and in that time the full employment act's objectives have given "sound guidance in furthering economic growth and stability."

Mr. Truman, who signed the act 10 years ago, said there was "almost no other piece of domestic legislation enacted while I was president to which I would attach equal significance."

sun, the fire of volcanoes, and lightning. Early myths attributed fire to these means. Another possible origin is friction, as between objects of wood or between the hoofs or claws of an animal and some hard substance. In Persian literature, there is a story of the discovery of fire in a fight with a dragon. One of the stones which the hero used in the fight as weapons missed the monster and struck a rock; light shone forth, and fire was seen by man for the first time. The mythology of nearly all primitive races contains some account of the accidental or the supernatural happenings which first revealed fire to men. It was regarded as a true gift of the gods.

Because fire was so essential to the welfare of men, it was considered sacred. Fire worship was widely practiced since very early times. And because it was so hard to produce, the custom soon became common of maintaining a public fire which was never allowed to die out. Among the Egyptians, Persians, Greeks, and Romans, these fires were kept in every village, and they were often the center of the community life.

Biblically, among the Hebrews fire not only symbolized the Lord's presence, but was used to consume the sacrifice. Figuratively, the term fire was used to express the possession of divine inspiration and to describe earthly calamities and impending punishment.

The value of fire to civilization can hardly be exaggerated. It cooks the world's foods, warms the people in winter, and furnishes the energy that drives all the great machines and makes vast industries possible. In fact, fire is so nearly indispensable to life itself that, according to the modern theory, it was the discovery of fire and its uses that marked the emergence of man from lowest savagery to the height of civilization today.

Why, then, if fire is so essential to man, does he allow it to destroy his homes, his schools, his churches, his natural resources, and his fellow man? Carelessness and ignorance, two small words, answer that question.

The enormous loss in property and lives caused by fires each year can be graphically portrayed by the following illustrations: Imagine a street a thousand miles in length, stretching from New York to Chicago and lined with buildings of a typical city—homes, churches, schools, factories, and stores. Suppose this street, choked with people and vehicles of every description, should be set on fire at either end, and should burn at the rate of three miles a day. At the end of a year, every building from one end of the highway to the other would be destroyed, and the spectator walking down the scene of desolation and destruction would come upon an injured person every thousand feet, and a human corpse every half mile. The ruin pictured in this supposed case is reproduced every year in the United States.

Fire Prevention is preached by newspapers, schools, civic and industrial organizations, and national

Ag Dep't Reports Food Consumption, Supply About Like 1955

WASHINGTON — The nation's food supply this year will be at least as large as last year's and will sell at about the same retail prices, the Agriculture Department predicted today.

A department publication, "The National Food Situation," said that expenditures for food per person this year likely will be somewhat higher than in 1955. This will result from a small increase in overall food consumption per person and continued shifts to more processed foods and more marketing services with food.

Some shifts in consumption among major foods are in prospect. An increase is expected for beef, pork, fluid milk, and chicken meat. A small decline is likely for veal, lamb and mutton.

and local governments. As a result of this campaign of education, the American people are beginning to exercise better care and to show a greater readiness to comply with precautionary measures against fire.

Fire, an agent of destruction, but one of man's most important discoveries—uncontrolled, it causes death and destruction; controlled and utilized, it makes possible life itself.

Czechs Charge American Balloon Caused Plane Crash

LONDON — Communist Czechoslovakia charged today that an American balloon caused the crash of a Czech airliner last Jan. 18 which killed 22 persons.

Radio Prague made the accusation in a broadcast heard in London.

The broadcast said the plane collided with the American balloon which had been floated across the Iron Curtain into Czech air space. "The cause of the plane disaster near Levoch, Slovakia, on Jan. 18, in which 22 passengers were killed and 4 seriously injured, was an American balloon dispatched to Czechoslovakian territory from a base in Western Germany," the broadcast said.

The Czech charge was the latest in a series from Communist countries against the launching of balloons from the West. The American government has said the only balloons it launches are peaceful weather balloons sent up to check meteorological data.

Stepping Out...With His Two Loves!

It's the hour of twilight!

And what happier prospect could a man ask for a wonderful evening. For tonight he's stepping out with his two favorite companions—the lady in his life . . . and the car in his life!

And you can rest assured that the "car of cars" will make a contribution all of its own to his evening's enjoyment.

First of all, there will be the inner satisfaction a man always feels as he steps into his Cadillac and settles behind the wheel. All about him will be the inspiration of Cadillac's luxury . . . and beauty . . . and graciousness.

Then there will be the thrill of Cadillac's marvelous performance. Driving will be so easy and so effortless that every mile will be a mile of relaxation and pleasure.

There will be the contentment that comes with Cadillac's great safety . . . and the comforting knowledge that he—and his lady—are surrounded with every comfort and safeguard known to automotive science.

And, finally, there will be the joy of arriving in the "car of cars" . . . and of catching those glances of admiration that will come his way as he pulls to the curbstone at journey's end.

Little wonder, then, that Cadillac owners have so great an affection for their motor cars.

And their sentiments etch themselves all the more deeply in the light of Cadillac's great economy and practicality. For how wonderful it is to know that the satisfactions of Cadillac ownership are coming from motordom's soundest and wisest investment.

Why not come in soon—with your lady—and "step out" for an hour or so at the wheel of a 1956 Cadillac? The car is waiting for you . . . and we'll be delighted to do the honors!

Delta Alpha Chapter Has Valentine Dance At Elks' Rathskeller

Delta Alpha chapter of Delta Theta Tau held a party recently in observance of the sorority's birthday which is celebrated annually on Feb. 13.

The affair was held at the Rathskeller of the Elks club and especially invited guests were the members' husbands and members of the alumni chapter of Delta Theta Tau and those holding memberships at large.

As the guests arrived they were greeted by Barbara Thompson, chapter president, who stood by a table decorated with the figures of George and Martha Washington and with an arrangement of pink flowers. Valentine identification cards were pinned on the guests.

A get-acquainted dance was held with Mrs. Dick Parker playing a medley of appropriate sweetheart songs. The chapter was happy to have Mrs. Parker, who was a guest, preside at the organ throughout the evening.

At the close of the dance Mrs. Ray Moore was given a valentine corsage as a prize. The door prize was won by Bob Rushing who received a box of candy for sitting in the lucky chair which had a valentine beneath it. Mrs. Charles Ford Jr. and Richard Webb were also given candy as prizes.

The committee composed of Mrs. Morris Skaggs, Mrs. Jim Sullivan, Mrs. Leland Cutting and Mrs. Bill Tom Rees served refreshments at a table centered with an arrangement of pink carnations with white feverfew in a white antique milk glass bowl tied with pink satin ribbon. Silver candelabra with pink candles were placed on either side. The napkins and plates carried out the Valentine theme.

The tables at which the guests were seated had centerpieces of gold colored foliage and magnolia leaf in gold containers.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. John Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Crews, Mr. and Mrs. John Foster, Mr. and Mrs. John Towle, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Favreau, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rushing, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Pankey, Mr. and Mrs. John Humm, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wirth, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Mitch Golsch, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gaskins, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Farrar, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ford Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Phil Nyberg, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Horning Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Parker, Mrs. Betty Franks, Olive Parker and her guest, Del Barter.

Tuesday Women's Bible Class Holds February Meeting

The February meeting of the Tuesday Women's Bible Class of the First Methodist church was held Tuesday evening, Feb. 14, at Wesley Center.

The business session was under the direction of the president, Mrs. Varjory Harding. The secretary and treasurer gave their reports. The opening song, "Touch of His Hand on Mine," was sung and prayer was by the teacher, Mrs. Robert Melven. The devotion was given by Mrs. Ed Chester.

A committee composed of Carle Barter, Opal Render, Nell Barter and Vera Jones was appointed to select new officers for the new year.

Mrs. John Rhodes was chairman of the entertainment which consisted of two piano solos, one, "Irish Lullaby," by Martha Coker, and "Skaters Waltz" by Mordene Melton. Several games were enjoyed by 29 members.

Refreshments of valentine cakes and cranberry tea were served.

Mrs. Orvel (Daisy) Patterson who had major surgery last week at St. Mary's hospital in Kankakee, Ill., is getting along fine. Her room number is 235.

Bill Plater Speaks on TV Work at Harrisburg Woman's Club Meeting

The Harrisburg Woman's club met yesterday afternoon in the club room of the public library. Mrs. L. B. Kimmel, president, presided over the meeting.

A lovely bouquet of red carnations and ferns graced the piano. The meeting opened with the song "America the Beautiful," led by Mrs. Herman Davis, after which the Pledge of Allegiance was given. Mrs. Dan Ludlow read the minutes of the previous meetings and Mrs. Hudson Mudge gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Kimmel presented Mrs. Scerial Thompson, representative of the Red Cross, who made a plea to the women to cooperate during the drive. Mrs. Lawrence Smith gave a report on the Valentine party at the Anna State hospital and told of the new items which were donated by the club.

Mrs. Ray Johnson was chairman of the program for the afternoon which began with two lovely songs sung by Martha Alice Parsons. The songs were "All the Things You Are" by Jerome Kern, and "It's a Grand Night for Singing" by Rogers and Hammerstein.

Mrs. Johnson then introduced Bill Plater, a member of the WSL-TV staff, who gave a most interesting talk on the work "behind the scenes" at the local television station. A question and answer session followed.

To conclude the program Mrs. Mearl Guard gave a timely devotion on "Spiritual Housecleaning."

Liberty W. M. S. Holds Royal Service Program

The Liberty Baptist W. M. S. met with Mrs. George Mitchell for the February Royal Service program. The meeting was opened with the group singing "Rescue the Perishing" and prayer by Mrs. Kenneth Roberts.

Mrs. Woodrow Owen presided during the business session and minutes were read and approved. An offering was given for Missions and announcement was made that the Annie Armstrong Season of Prayer will be observed in early March.

Mrs. Kenneth Roberts will serve as program chairman instead of Mrs. Elbert Langford who will assume the duties of Community Missions chairman of W. M. S.

The lesson, "God Save America," was in charge of Mrs. Langford as narrator and the following women: "Tao Indians," Mrs. Kenneth Roberts; "Puerto Ricans," Mrs. Lela Gibbs; "W. M. U. Dollars and Missions," Mrs. L. B. Malone; "Alaska," Mrs. Woodrow Owen; "Early American Statesmen," Mrs. Harry Powell.

The meeting was closed with a prayer poem led by Mrs. Willie Hendren and united prayer by the group.

Mrs. Mitchell served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

1st Lt. Huland Middleton and Family Honored With Party

On Saturday night at 7:30 Mr. and Mrs. Jack Yates entertained with a party at their home on South McKinley. The affair was in honor of First Lieutenant and Mrs. Huland Middleton and daughter, Rose Ann.

Mr. Middleton recently returned from Japan where he served two years with the armed forces, and he is now stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., where they will make their home.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Uzzle and Nancy Jo, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Yates and twins, Janice and Jeffery, and Mr. and Mrs. Huland Middleton and Rose Ann.

The four men were stationed together at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., in 1953, and this was their first reunion since that time. Entertainment was provided by Mr. Jackson who showed slides made while he was in Okinawa. Sandwiches, coffee, pie and ice cream were served.

Xi Beta Omega Chapter Members Entertain Husbands With Valentine Dance

The members of Xi Beta Omega Exemplar chapter of Beta Sigma Phi entertained their husbands with a valentine dinner dance recently at the country club.

The tables were covered with red and white cloths and centered with a floral arrangement of red and white. Valentine place cards were also used. The group enjoyed a delicious steak dinner.

The evening was spent in dancing and visitation.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Benny Steinmarch, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Humm, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McGehee, Mr. and Mrs. John Molinaro, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Kimberlin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dorris, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Partain, Mr. and Mrs. John Utter, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Upchurch and Dr. and Mrs. James Gaskins.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Schradler and children, Laura and Charles (Chuckie), have gone to San Diego, Calif., where he is to report to the San Diego Navy base, following training at Great Lakes. They left Sunday and were accompanied by Mrs. Iva Showler of Harrisburg, who will visit her daughter, Mrs. Ben Holt, Palm City, Calif.

Mrs. Alex Cathcart, 1125 South McKinley, entered Barnes hospital in St. Louis, Mo. Sunday and underwent surgery this morning. Her condition is fine. Her room number is 2214.

Beta Kappa Chapter Members Entertain Husbands With Supper

Beta Kappa chapter of Beta Sigma Phi entertained their husbands with a valentine buffet supper in the Rathskeller at the Elks Club Friday, Feb. 17.

The committee in charge, composed of Mrs. Ronald Coon and Mrs. Bill Keen, decorated the tables with red and white cloths and candles.

After the supper the group had an enjoyable time square dancing.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. James Suver, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Podorski, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Ewell, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Slack, Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Keen, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. James Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Neihaus, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brashers, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Coon, Miss Jeanette James and Roger Harris.

Heavenly Body takes off like a comet

We've had it said to us many times that this Buick for 1956 is a honey in looks — a beauty from any angle.

And that's a compliment we're proud to accept — for this Buick, we believe, carries the best styling yet.

But we'd like to point out to those who have merely looked at this eye-catching automobile that there's plenty to whistle at under the hood.

It's performance we're talking.

It's power at a lofty new high. It's torque at its greatest build-up yet. It's smoothness to the absolute. It's response that's infinitely thrilling. And there's never been anything quite like it before anywhere.

Some facts may give you the picture.

Every '56 Buick is bulwarked by a big, broad, precision-balanced chassis that's ride-engineered like no other in the world.

Every new Buick cradles a vertical-valved 322-cubic-inch V8 engine with the highest horsepower and the highest compression,

Series for Series, in all Buick history.

And every such Buick can move with the electrifying high-torque take-off of an advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo* . . .

Where getaway response in the first inch of pedal travel is brilliantly quick and nimble . . .

Where gas mileage steps up and smoothness remains absolutely constant . . .

And where, when you need to, for emergency use, you can switch the pitch in a split second for full-power acceleration — and sweep ahead in a spectacular, zooming safety-surge.

Maybe you'd like to try all this?

We'll be happy to do the honors — and show you the easy-to-take prices that make Buick the best buy yet, by far. How about tomorrow?

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Illinois Trounces Purdue, 102-77, While Iowa Barely Gets Past Indiana, 87-83

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State and Minnesota were the key teams today in the torrid 1956 Big Ten basketball race.

Although neither the Buckeyes nor the Gophers have a chance of winning the championship themselves, they are the teams most likely to determine whether the crown will go to Illinois or Iowa.

Third-place Ohio State tangles Saturday with Illinois at Columbus while Iowa travels to Minnesota for its last game away from Iowa City this season.

Minnesota will then travel to Illinois on Monday night while Iowa is playing host to Northwestern.

When these games are concluded, Iowa and Illinois will clash head-on before a national television audience at Iowa City March 3.

But a defeat before their all-important game in Iowa City could ruin the show-down battle.

Hawks Squeeze By Hoosiers

Iowa almost got clipped again on the road Monday night, defeating Indiana in the final 46 seconds, 87-83, on a basket by Bill Logan and two free throws by Bill Seaberg.

The defending champion Hawks have now won their last three games on the road by margins of 4, 5, and 4 points. And Coach Ozzie Cowles and the Gophers will be laying for the Hawks in Minneapolis.

Illinois coasted to its 16th straight conquest and 10th in a row in Big Ten play by trouncing Purdue, 102-77. It was the fifth time the Illini went over the century mark this year and brought their overall record to 17-1.

Illinois never trailed after erasing an early 10-8 Boilermaker lead, and four Illini hit in the double figures. Paul Judson paved the way with 21 and was followed by Bill Ridley, 18, George Bon-Salle, 17, and Harv Schmidt, 15.

Iowa blew a seven-point lead with 7:03 to play and Indiana tied the score at 83-83 on two baskets by Archie Dees and Wally Choice's field goal and charity toss.

Spartans Beat Wildcats

The Hawks then went into a stall with 3:16 remaining and Logan got free under the basket to sink the winning bucket with 46 seconds left. Seaberg added his two insurance tosses in the dying seconds.

Michigan State handed Northwestern its 10th consecutive setback, 96-83, but only after the Spartan crowd was cheering for the winless Wildcats when Northwestern took a 93-92 lead with 90 seconds remaining.

The Spartans clinched their fifth victory against five defeats when Julius McCoy and Jack Quiggle popped in two free throws each. McCoy, the Big Ten's second leading scorer, hit for 25 points.

Robin Freeman sank 27 points as Ohio State downed Wisconsin, 73-71. Freeman thus remained ahead of McCoy in their individual dual for scoring honors with an average of 30.5 as compared to McCoy's 28.7.

The Harrisburg-Cairo game was close from start to finish, the score being tied on several occasions. With a minute to go it was knotted at 46-all, then the locals spurred to the front with a five-point rally.

Rory Calhoun Registers 18th Straight Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—Unbeaten young Rory Calhoun, who registered his 18th straight victory Monday night on a television TKO over Angelo Defendis, will be moved "very gradually" toward a middleweight title shot, trainer Charley Goldman said today.

Rory's next bout will be an eight-round semi-final at Madison Sq. Garden, March 9.

Monday night, the 21-year old Negro of White Plains, N. Y., stopped young Defendis of Brooklyn at the end of the fifth round in their return bout at St. Nicholas Arena. It was scheduled for 10.

Rory had a decision over Defendis in their first scrap, Sept. 27, 1954. The two defeats are the only ones against Defendis' 14-fight record.

Shawneetown Jumps to Ninth In Cage Ratings

West Rockford Tops State; Pinckneyville Is Rated Second

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — The United Press Board of Coaches juggled their ratings of the top 15 Illinois high school basketball teams after a weekend of form reversals, but Rockford West again was a unanimous choice as the state's top quintet.

West has won 18 and lost only once, falling to Moline in the second game of the season while playing without 6 foot 7 inch John Wessels.

Pinckneyville added three victories during the week and held its second spot in the ratings. Herrin, winner over Mount Vernon, also remained in third place.

But Moline, losing to both Galesburg and Quincy, fell from fourth to 11th in the ratings. Mount Vernon slipped from fifth to seventh.

Galesburg, whipping Moline and Macomb, rose from sixth to fourth. Quincy jumped from a tie for seventh into the fifth notch this week.

Edwardsville, winning the Southwestern Conference crown with victories over Collinsville and East St. Louis, moved from 10th to sixth. Peoria Central, moving toward a Big 12 Conference championship, was ranked eighth.

Shawneetown closed out its season with 26 victories and no losses, and moved up to the ninth ranked spot in the state. Lincoln, running close to Peoria Central in the Big 12, gained a notch to 10th.

Collinsville Dropped

The Alton Redbirds, winning twice while Collinsville was losing twice, were ranked No. 12, replacing the Kahoks in the top 15 for the southwest area. Rock Island and Peru St. Bede also were dropped from the top 15 and were replaced by South Suburban champ Chicago Heights Bloom and Crystal Lake, beaten only twice all season.

Effingham St. Anthony, which has lost but once and Sunday night defeated St. Louis University High, was again rated 15th.

Here are the rankings, with records and points polled:

1. Rockford West	18-1	225
2. Pinckneyville	23-3	205
3. Herrin	22-2	197
4. Galesburg	19-2	158
5. Quincy	21-4	148
6. Edwardsville	19-5	131
7. Mount Vernon	17-5	102
8. Peoria Central	18-3	91
9. Shawneetown	26-0	89
10. Lincoln	19-2	78
11. Moline	16-6	55
12. Alton	18-6	51
13. Bloom	15-4	42
14. Crystal Lake	22-2	33
15. St. Anthony	23-1	29

Other teams receiving votes: ock Island, Collinsville, Peru St. Bede, Wood River, La Salle-Peru, Proviso Maywood, Elgin, Salem, La Grange, West Frankfort, Peoria Spalding, Hillsboro, Deatur St. Teresa, Litchfield, Hinsdale and Winnetka New Trier.

Archie Moore Ends 5-Month Boxing Layoff

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — World light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, back in business again after a five-month layoff, planned to fight again next Monday night despite London promoter Jack Solomons' demands to the contrary.

"Jack Solomons sure is full of propositions, isn't he?" Moore asked Monday night shortly after he hammered out a top-sided 10-round decision over Howard King in a non-title bout here. "I have to have a lot of fights to get back into shape."

Solomons announced in London Monday that he would allow blubbery Archie to postpone a world championship bout there against Yolande Pompey from March 13 to June 5 providing Moore agreed to a list of provisions.

These included that Moore not box anybody anywhere else before the Pompey bout, put up a guarantee of $14,000 that he would appear, and arrive in England four or five weeks before the fight.

Despite Solomons' ban against Archie fighting anybody else before Pompey, Moore said he plans to box Bob Dunlap in San Diego next Monday.

Moore has expressed fear that he might be "robbed" of his crown in the same way that Kid Gavilan lost a disputed decision to Peter Waterman there two weeks ago.

Looking at Sports

BY BILL MELTON

There are co-champions of the "you pick 'em" contest for ten top games played last week.

Jon Frohock, Harrisburg, and David Lee Odum, Carrier Mills, tied for honors with eight correct selections and two misses.

Odum's misses were in picking Carrier Mills over Norris City and Harrisburg over Eldorado. Frohock also missed by picking Carrier Mills to win and was wrong in predicting a McLeansboro victory over Eldorado.

Guess if we used the score of the game of the week, the top honor would go to Frohock, one of only three of last week's entrants to pick Eldorado to win from Harrisburg. Frohock predicted a 61-57 score—not very close to the actual final score.

Eldorado and Carrier Mills provided the big upsets of the week as far as "you pick 'em" contestants were concerned.

Not a one predicted Carrier Mills to lose to Norris City—but they did. Only three thought Eldorado would win from McLeansboro and Harrisburg, and no one foresaw both victories. The Eldorado votes were on six different ballots.

Had an entry from Atlanta, Ill. this past week. Believe that is the farthest distance we have heard from to date. Ben F. Davis, formerly from Wesson and a graduate of Eldorado high school, is now teaching at Atlanta and is an official in football, basketball and baseball. Atlanta is a town of about 1,400, located between Lincoln and Bloomington.

Glad to hear from you Ben, write us again.

This is the last of the "you pick 'ems" from regular scheduled games. The reason! This is the final week of the regular schedule.

In fact this will be the last "you pick 'em" for this season. In Monday's Daily Register we ran a list of ten regionals for you to try your skill with and the deadline is Monday, Feb. 27.

Wouldn't it be possible to run sectional games as we wouldn't know the pairings in time to run in the paper and give you time to return your picks before the games would have been played.

Deadline for this week's "you pick 'em" is the same as in the past—5 p. m. Friday.

Mt. Vernon at Murphysboro
Salem at Effingham
Marion at Paducah
Centralia at Canton
McLeansboro at Du Quoin

Hawks Snap Losing Streak

By United Press
The St. Louis Hawks, pleased that their latest victory famine is over, today held a one-point lead over Rochester for the third and final playoff spot in the National Basketball Association's Western Division.

The Hawks snapped a six-game losing streak Monday night by edging the Fort Wayne Pistons, 84-82, on a last second basket by Bob Harrison in a neutral court game at Kansas City.

In a doubleheader tonight at New York, the Knicks entertain the Syracuse Nationals and the Royals play the Pistons. The Hawks return to St. Louis for a game with the Boston Celtics.

Hardy Dam on the Muskegon River in Michigan is the largest earthwork dam of its kind in the world. It is 1000 feet wide, 120 feet high and forms a lake over 16 miles long.

The referee is the sole judge in British boxing.

However, there was no doubt about Monday night's fight with Reno's Howard King. Archie belted him down in the first and ninth rounds and draped him over the middle strand in the seventh round while crunching out a unanimous decision over the distressed boxer.

Thinking It Over—For Lent

By Robt. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
Written for NEA Service

God does not sit on a cloud and float around over the earth. When we were children we thought of God as being high above the earth and peering down on people who did not see Him. Even when we grew up we referred to Him as "up there." We thought of Him as far away.

Well, He is probably up there in the same way He is every place, but a lot of us have been up there above the clouds and we have not seen anything that looked like God. Even the vastness is not vast. Speed is not speed.

When we rise to three, four or five miles above the earth, we are just remote—so remote from earthly things that speed means nothing until we return to the earth where relationships exist.

Then it means something to have been someplace and to be someplace else.

Back on the earth where people are, we do not feel remote. Realities come to life. There, with people, you feel the influence of people, and the power that makes people tick. Again we find that we are not ranging in nothingness.

On the earth we can feel much more of the presence of a God who loves man, because God lives in His beings—in you and me.

Peoria Area Schools to Form Own Conference

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—School officials announced today eight Peoria area schools will form their own athletic conference, with three of them deserting the Big 12.

The new conference will start competition in the 1958-59 school year.

Its members will be East Peoria, Pekin, and Limestone. Manual, Spaulding, Woodruff, Central, all of Peoria, and Richwoods Township, a new school being built.

Manual, Pekin and Central will leave the Big 12 conference.

East Peoria, however, will retain its membership in the Illini conference, according to Principal Myron Moore.

Farmers Shout From Floor At IAA Meeting

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—A mass meeting called to protest the Senate farm bill hit a snag Monday when Illinois farmers began shouting from the floor and many walked out.

The Illinois Agriculture Assn., the nation's largest state Farm Bureau, had hoped to win grass roots opposition to the Democratic-backed farm bill at the meeting.

Almost 11,000 farmers—far more than expected—packed the Bradley University Fieldhouse to hear denunciations of high, rigid price supports and the Senate bill's soil bank plan.

But the issue was left in doubt when farmers began shouting their opinions from the floor.

When IAA President Otto Steffey called for a voice vote on the association's policies, the applause and shouts were mixed. Steffey did not announce the vote's result, but called instead for general discussion.

Farmers had already begun trooping out of the meeting and the exodus continued during the discussion. The meeting ended without a formal adjournment.

Some of the protesting farmers appeared to be backers of the Senate bill's 90 per cent of parity price supports plan. Others apparently thought the IAA didn't go far enough in demanding a return to flexible supports.

A Lincoln, Ill., farmer, speaking from the floor, charged that lower supports will mean "the farmer will have to grow more to make a living."

Another speaker from the floor said "industrial size" farms are hurting family-size farms in Illinois.

In contrast, John Doll of Dundas, Ill., said farmers need a program "that will enable us to stand on our own feet and not be financed by the government."

The IAA leaders demanded that the bill be amended to provide:

1. Control of diverted acres on both basic and non-basic crops.

2. Reduction of government crop stockpiles by increasing payments for underplanting of future allotments.

3. Planting of a certain percentage of diverted acres to soil building crops.

4. Elimination of corn acreage allotments for 1956 and a return to 1955 corn allotments.

Retired Doctor Burns To Death at Peoria

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Dr. Frederick M. Hamlin, believed to be 85 years old, burned to death today in a fire in his second-floor apartment. Hamlin was retired and lived alone. The fire also damaged a drug store on the first floor, and a neighboring television appliance store.

The fire was believed caused by a coal stove.

Fear Outbreak of Flu in Europe

LONDON (AP)—Medical authorities prepared today for a possible outbreak of influenza in icebound Europe.

Experts said the influenza danger depends on whether the cold breaks suddenly or the continent warms up gradually, the prediction now is for more cold and snow, although there have been sudden thaws in some areas, raising the spectre of floods and avalanches.

Eighteen new deaths have been reported in the 3-week-old freeze, raising the total to 789.

None of the deaths has been attributed to influenza. Italy, next to France the hardest hit by the numbing Siberian-born cold, is the only nation to experience a major flu outbreak. More than 350,000 cases were reported in Rome after the cold spell began Feb. 1.

France counted 186 dead, Italy 149 dead. Damage in France is estimated at 500 million dollars. Italy reported 80 million dollars in damage. Peasants were reported shooting hunger-crazed wolves in the mountains of Italy.

Coal Ass'n Opposes Freight Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Coal Assn. today protested a proposed 500-million-dollar-a-year freight rate boost sought by the nation's railroads.

The NCA's opposition was filed before the Interstate Commerce Commission, which continued hearings on the proposed increase today. Unless the commission in tentativeness, the new rates will go into effect next Saturday.

Michigan's Upper Peninsula, one-third the total area of the state, is as large as Delaware, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut combined.

New Bipartisan Senate Group to Probe Lobbying

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joseph Wishart, chairman of the Nebraska Republican Finance committee, told Senate investigators today how oil lobbyist John M. Neff contributed $2,500 to the committee's campaign fund last fall.

Wishart gave his version of the contribution in a closed session with the staff of the blue-ribbon Senate committee which has been investigating Neff's rejected $2,500 contribution to Sen. Francis Case (R-SD).

The special committee planned to question Wishart later in public session. But it wasn't clear whether he would appear today or Wednesday since he also has been summoned to testify before a federal grand jury investigating the Neff incident.

Meanwhile, Senate leaders set the wheels moving for creation of a new bipartisan committee to conduct a "far-reaching and thorough" investigation of lobbying and campaign contributions.

The Senate Democratic Policy Committee unanimously approved the proposal late Monday. The Republican Policy Committee was expected to act today. With the backing of the leadership, the proposal almost certainly will be approved by the full Senate later.

Funds Traced Back

Informed sources said Sens. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) and Clinton P. Anderson

(D-NM) are likely Democratic members of the new special committee. Whether all would serve appeared to depend on how big the Senate decides to make the group.

Gore was reported likely to be named committee chairman since he now heads a Senate Elections subcommittee which had planned a similar inquiry of its own.
